BURGLARIZED ON TWO SUCCESSIVE NIGHTS

Hungry Thieves Rob a Restaurant Near the Passenger Depot

Third Burglary in Three Months At the Same Establishment

The Miscreants Left a Note to Tell That it Was Not Their First Break There

The eating house and store of Frank Leary on Depot avenue appears to be a mark for thieves.

On Wednesday night, his place was visited for the third time. This morning the cook, on opening up the store, found the floor and counter covered with food and articles taken from the show case and that the door of the cook room in the rear was open.

On the counter was a note written on a paper bag which the prowlers left. It read: "Frank Lawrence has been in here for the second time."

It is a foregone conclusion that this work is not the doings of experienced thieves but of a freak. Nothing was found missing other than a lot of blueberry pie and Moxie on which the cheap crooks feasted. It appears they did not care for money or else they were looking for a big haul. A cup containing about one dollar in coppers was taken from the candy case and the money thrown on the counter and floor, but none of it was taken by the thieves.

They got in the store through a window in the kitchen and left by a back door.

This was the third break at this place within three months. They seem to be getting close together, the last two being on successive nights, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. There has been a large number of petty burglaries at other Portsmouth establishments this summer.

AGED NINETY-SIX YEARS

On Tuesday at Seabrook occurred the death of Nancy W., widow of William P. Eaton, at the age of ninety-six years, six months and fifteen days, being the oldest person in the town. She leaves three sons, three daughters and five generations of descendants, making a total of 150 in all.

ADMIRAL DEWEY IS ON RETURN TRIP

He Unveiled the Tablet in Memory of Admiral Farragut

At the conclusion of the ceremony at the navy yard yesterday afternoon Admiral Dewey and party at once went to the U. S. S. Dolphin and shortly after six o'clock the ship left the navy yard and dropped down the river and proceeded to sea. The Dolphin will go direct to Newport where Admiral Dewey will attend a meeting of the naval board and then return to Washington.

Before he went on board of the the inscription on this tablet and the words "Faithful and Fearless" contain it all. I have been in many places which required thought and action and I have often wondered at rewards if Admiral Farragut would have done the same in the same position. I tried always to do what he would have done confident that that would be right. I was with him two years and in that time I learned to like and love this famous old hero." As Admiral Dewey pulled aside the

Tablet in memory of Admiral Farragut

Dolphin Admiral Dewey held a brief reception and everybody shook hands with him. He is looking the picture of health and looks as rugged and keen as a man of fifty.

Unveiling of the tablet on the navy yard commandant's house, marking it as the place where death came to his great predecessor and good friend, Admiral Farragut, on which occasion he spoke briefly.

His remarks were: "It gives me great pleasure on this occasion to unveil a tablet in memory of such a distinguished hero of the American Navy. I had the pleasure of writing flag from the tablet, the Naval Band played 'The Star Spangled Banner' and everybody came to attention.

In connection with the meeting of the naval general board today at Newport, Admiral and Mrs. Dewey are the guests of Commander and Mrs. Mallon at luncheon at noon. The other guests include Commander Thomas Washington, U. S. N., commanding the Dolphin, and Commander H. V. Butler, U. S. N., the admiral's personal aide.

Among those present at the unveiling on Wednesday was Loyal Farragut, the only living son of the great admiral.

PATRICK COLLINS STABBED BY ITALIAN

He Attempted to Separate Two Men in a Fight

As a result of a row between two Italians, Joseph Rossi and James Coupe of this city, Patrick Collins, an assistant foreman in the Boston and Maine cotton crew, was stabbed at Hampton on Wednesday afternoon.

The two men had been growing during the day and the other cotton hands, engaged trouble. At last they clashed and were cutting head when the rest of the men intervened and separated them. The foreman William Norton, to end it all, charged Rossi in the face and though Rossi would not move trouble during the day. However,

Rossi was found to finish the fight and just as the men quit work he came back and met Coupe at the depot where they renewed the scrap. Collins, who was close by, intervened and Rossi pulled a knife and cut him in the left side just over a rib.

Rossi then tried to escape and ran from a crowd. He was caught by a black, William Norton and some of the men gave chase and caught him. The crowd of sailors and the police to Norton, who found him near to the chief of police. Today he will be arraigned in police court at Hampton.

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Portsmouth Women Given Honor by a Boston Organization

Mrs. Nellie M. Bone of this city has been unanimously elected a member of the executive board of the Professional Women's Club of Boston and is chairman of its art department. She is to represent her city, a native of this state.

She studied Sept. 1, and will return here to complete some paintings by the late Eliza D. Tenney, her old teacher and family friend. Mrs. Bone has made many notable acquaintances in Boston and is highly beloved.

Another member of the club is Miss Josephine Bone of New Castle, an honorary member is Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, formerly Miss Mary Compaine. She is to represent her city, a native of this state.

What I think about

I have a Household Range in my home, bought about 15 years ago. The range is used every day and it has had hard use. I do a large amount of cooking to sell, six to 10 loaves of both butter and sponge cake in a morning. Then I can fit my fire and give a cooking lesson either in the afternoon or evening, and it bakes just as well at night as it does in the morning. We like the range very much.

BUILDING ON LONG WHARF COLLAPSES

Several Boys Have Narrow Escape And One Lad Injured

One of the old coal sheds on Long Wharf off Water street collapsed shortly after five o'clock Wednesday afternoon and several children had narrow escapes from being caught in the crash.

At the time there were a number of boys playing about the building, but they heard the warning creaking of the timbers in time for them to get out of the building, with one exception. Young Jack Troy was not so fortunate and he was struck by a timber and his ankle badly bruised.

The building fell with a crash that was heard for some distance and it brought out a crowd, but the boys had got well out of the danger before they arrived.

It was one of the buildings used by the late G. L. Philbrick for a coal packing and had been in bad repair for some years. It has been a favorite place for the boys to play although they have been warned of the danger. The wharf is said to be in a dangerous condition and liable to slide into the river any time.

AT THE NAVY YARD

One of the veteran clerks of the comptroller and accounts is out with a challenge to any of the strong men of the department for a turn in juggling heavy dumbbells or any contest where he can exhibit his wonderful strength.

Several veterans of the gallant Twenty-eighth Maine regiment employed on the yard are attending the annual reunion of the regiment at Kennebunk today.

Another detachment of marines, sixteen in number, who recently arrived from Panama were sent here today from League Island for duty on the prison ship Tepoka.

The New Castle delegation employed on the yard are out with plenty of cash to back one of their townsmen who has entered the Marathon race for Labor day.

The workmen at the yard enjoyed the unveiling of the Farragut tablet on Wednesday under peculiar circumstances.

Edward Rand of New Castle, tool maker in the construction and repair department, is enjoying his annual vacation.

Dark room at present is plenty along the water front.

Twenty laborers in the yards and docks were set to work this morning destroying the unusually large growth of milkweed on Seavey's Island.

The crowds are still hanging on at the beaches and the hotel people expect full houses until after Labor Day.

IT PAYS TO CONSIDER QUALITY IN BUYING NOTIONS AND TOILET GOODS

Wouldn't you rather buy the little essentials for the bath and dressing table and the requisites for the work basket at a store where you know that whatever you bought was good and worth every cent of its price?

Our Notions and Toilet Goods Department is in keeping with the rest of this store—which means that assortments include only goods of standard quality priced at fairest prices.

You cannot get more for your money in Toilet Goods and Nations than we give you—but you can get less, if you are not careful where you buy.

HERE ARE ONLY PART OF MUCH WANTED TOILET ARTICLES OF MERIT.

SPEAKER CANNON IN BOSTON

Looking Over The Political Situation In Maine

Boston, Aug. 27.—Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the United States House of Representatives, was here yesterday, the last of the night at Congressman Cannon's home in the city.

Concerning business conditions in the congressional election, Cannon said:

"The western farmer is in splendid financial shape. He has been successful in the part to restrict his expenditures against the political uncertainties."

LOCKE FAMILY REUNION AT RYE

A Large Attendance and an Interesting Program

The annual reunion of the descendants of John Locke one of the early settlers in Rye, was held on Wednesday at Rye Beach and there was a large gathering. The weather was hot but this did not seem to cut down the attendance to any great extent.

The program was held in the forenoon, and in the afternoon an interesting literary and musical program was given. Last evening there was dancing until eleven o'clock. There were many from this city present.

THE NEXT ATTRACTION

"The Girl of the Emerald Isle," which will be produced by Miss Louise Vale and her selected company at Music Hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 1, is adapted from the well known story of "Harvey" by Travers Vale. The adapter has taken some liberties with the story, but it has been done with the idea of making the story more attractive for stage purposes by the introduction of some delightful comedy to relieve the portions of the play that keep the audience on edge at other times. Miss Vale in the dual role of Helen Wrenn and Mrs. Wheatcroft, gives strong evidence of being an actress, possessing rare emotional power, artistic dramatic methods and a magnetic personality that makes her a strong favorite with patrons of the theatre.

"THE HUNCHBACK AND THE LADY"

Presented by Mr. Ryan at Music Hall last evening

Mr. Ryan and his company opened a two night's engagement at Music Hall on Wednesday evening, when the drama "The Hunchback and the Lady" was presented to a good sized audience. The company are all good and gave excellent support to Mr. Ryan.

The attraction this evening will be "Don't Tell My Wife."

The cast for last evening was: Manfredo, King of Rimini, K. L. Way; Lancelotto, his son, Mr. Ryan; Paolo, his son, Jeffery Murphy; Benzo Pope, Court Jester, W. H. Carwright; Cardinal, K. L. Way; Guido, King of Ravenna, J. J. Flanagan; Captain, E. A. Roslyn; First Nobleman, Frank Spolman; Second Nobleman, George Fisher; Francesca, Guido's daughter, Harriet Duke; Netty, her maid, Ada Wadsworth.

A MEMORY OF WAR—1861-1865

From time to time bright memories come of scenes passed long ago. When we were marched together, lounged around the camp fire's glow, stood on picket guard at cross-roads, or swung out on skilful lines, saw flags go down—then rise up to advance, their stars ashine!

For Freedom's cause we battled, to preserve the Nation's life. Crowded centuries of progress into four brief years of strife.

And we look back to these old days, and long their memory green. When we old boys for so long safe caressed the old canteen!

Though 'twas filled with lurid water, how we drank and drank again!

'Twas nectar on our marches, or to the aid of dying men!

We fancy now they sing again, upon that distant shore:

"We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand more."

We dream we see them marching, with their long and swinging stride, to the rhythm of the dipper tinkling clear at each man's side.

And as they tramp o'er rugged roads, their waves and bayonets shine, and wood comes sharp, by galloping abler: "Farm men quick into line!"

Tense-nerved, bearded men form lines of blue, with faces told firm between.

The battle sounds the charge—Hurrah! the deadened battle's end!

Scenes on that field will not pass—gray-dead men and mother's boys, the cries of women clamor to hell.

First peace with all its joy! When as we reach the battle's end, means of wounded filled the air!

For North and South the dice was played, "This'll be one vacant chair!"

Comrades, our march grows shorter, as near that other shore.

But we'll meet our fate as bravely as we did in days of yore.

We'll leave our dented coffee dipper, and that precious old canteen hanging right above the mantel, with Old Glory in between.

And our famous friend, old handkerchief, we'll just add it to the wall—'Twould stand a trip, rowed by a ship, from here to Europe!

And in fancy, when we reach the end, and tread the golden way, we'll see the men who wore the blue, and men who wore the gray.

And they'll greet us, when we meet them on that bright and happy day. While all will sing the army songs the old hands used to play.

And that which touches every heart, whenever men may roam.

There's a that always brought the cheer, that sweet song, "Home, Sweet Home!"

MARSHAL THE MENTAL FACULTY.

System Necessary to Get Best Work from the Brain.

The normal mind acts under law. The mental faculties will not give up their best unless they are marshaled by system. They respond cordially to order, but they rebel against slothful methods. They are like soldiers. They must have a leader, a general who enforces order, method. The majority of people get very little out of their brains because they never learn to think systematically. Their minds are like some country stores where everything is jumbled up. There is no order or method anywhere. They browse, or cogitate, but they do not focus their minds and conduct their mental processes with order.

Slovely mental habits will destroy the finest minds. The strength and persistence of our habitual thought force measure our efficiency. The habitual thought-force in many people is so feeble and spasmodic that they cannot focus their minds with sufficient vigor to accomplish much.

We can quickly tell the first time we meet a person whether his thought-force is strong or weak, for every sentence he utters will partake of its quality. The person who has a negative thought-force betrays his lack of strength in his every word. His language is weak, has no gripping quality.

But the man with a vigorous mental faculty takes right hold of you, grips your mind with every sentence. His power thrills you, and you feel immediately that you are in the presence of a strong personality. It is the positive, the aggressive thought that creates, that invents. The negative thought is always weak. Success Magazine.

WHAT THE LOG LINE WAS FOR.

Passenger New to the Sea Receives Lucid Explanation.

Officers on the coastwise and foreign steamship lines are not limited to their regular duties, but are expected to answer the questions of curious passengers besides. Sometimes, however, the passengers take the matter into their own hands, and instruct others more ignorant than themselves.

The purser on a well-known liner tells of a lady who had made a passage before, and who in consequence felt a superior knowledge of maritime things.

Several ladies were grouped in the stern, this one among them, when their attention was attracted by the log with its long line attached to the rail.

"Why, what can that be?" inquired one of the party.

"That," said the knowing one, "Well, you see the vessel has to keep in communication with the land, and in order to tell just how far they have got on the passage they keep on a cord tied to the dock, and by looking at the amount of line paid out they can tell just how far they are from the other side."

"Oh!" exclaimed the other, after this lucid explanation. "Well, I have always heard of the log, but I never knew what one was before. Thank you so much!"—Youth's Companion.

Remedy for Choking.

"Raising the left arm as high as you can will relieve choking much more rapidly than the use of anything else," said a physician, "and it is well that everyone should know it, for often a person gets choked while eating where there is no one near to help him. Very frequently at meals and when they are at play, children get choked while eating, and the customary manner of relieving them is to slap them sharply on the back. The effect of this is to set the obstruction free. The same thing can be brought about by raising the left hand of the child as high as possible and the relief comes much more quickly. In happenings of this kind there should be no alarm, for if the child sees that other persons or parents get excited the effect is bad. The best thing is to tell the child to raise his left arm and immediately the difficulty passes away."

His Wife.

"The agent stepped briskly up to Mr. Mosley's desk and laid a small article close to his right hand.

"I have here a new letter opener," he said, "a handsome article, to be kept on the table in your library, say, and—"

"Pardon me?" interrupted Mr. Mosley, without turning his head, "but I have among the best letter openers, and the quickest."

"How long have you had it?" persisted the agent. "You know there are constant improvements always being introduced."

"Mine couldn't be improved," responded the gentleman. "I've had her for about two years now—anniversary of the wedding next month!" Stray Stories.

TO BRING ORANGE TREE NORTH.

Botanists at Work on Development of Hardy Specimen.

Botanists in the employ of the United States department of agriculture hope to bring into being an orange tree which will be as sturdy as the apple tree; an orange tree that will not perish in the chill of northern winter, which in December will bear its wreaths of snow and in May its garlands of bloom, and when summer comes will yield fruit as good as that sweetened in the south sun.

This may seem to be an unusual proposition, but it only seems so. No violence upon the laws of Nature has been or will be attempted. It is simply an effort to make the citrus tree which bears the sweet table orange as hardy and insensitive to cold as the cherry tree which bears the bitter, unedible orange. By crossing a citrus tree which grows in the north and which bears the inedible fruit with the citrus tree of the south it is sought to forget a plant in which will be combined the best traits of each.

Government botanists are confident that the results of this citrus marriage will be a seed that will grow and fruit at a latitude midway between the northern limits of the sweet and bitter orange. If this should be there might be groves in central Virginia, middle Kentucky, southern Indiana, middle Illinois, central Missouri and central Kansas. Think of orange groves around the homes in Richmond, Louisville, Cincinnati and Kansas City—Technical World.

NEW DIET HAS MANY FRIENDS.

Converts to "Sanitarianism" Being Made Every Day.

Sanitarianism, or half vegetarianism, has gained many converts since Minister Wm. coined the new word. The theory of the stomach's being the seat of all disease is banishing meat from the bill of fare of many homes.

Cereals and fruits, vegetables, curried rice prepared with meat extracts and gravies, the various pastes from Italy deftly cooked in the Tuscan manner with tomato essence and cheese, all these foods are gaining in popularity as the steak and chop fare diminishes.

The sanitarian does not banish meat from his menu, but neither does he make much of it, and the red meats and pork are rarely used. Chicken and fish appear to be the least harmful of dietetic solids, in his opinion.

The person who resolves to improve the meat diet with a view to improving his general condition will be amazed, the sanitarian declares, to find that after a few days he will feel lighter, better in mind and capable of more effort. And but water taken internally in quantity each morning upon rising produces such effects in conjunction with a restricted diet that one who persists in the treatment for a few weeks will never go back to the old program.

Horses Made Deaf by Lightning.

An unusual incident occurred at Clark's Coppers, two miles north of Concord Lake, when an electrical storm passed over the place. The barn on the Bartlett farm was struck by lightning during the night, and when Stephen Bartlett went to the barn in the morning he found that the post between two of the horses stalled in the barn was smashed to kindling.

Although the horses must have been rendered senseless by the shock, they did not show any injury until being hitched up. When Bartlett began to go, haw and click to the horses they paid no attention whatever to him, but as soon as he touched his whip to them they responded. An examination showed the animals had had their eardrums broken by the crash. Both horses are now suffering—Gen. correspondence Rochester Herald.

New Work for Women.

The auto bus is the latest outlet for the energies of women, suggested as a means of income. One near Philadelphia is called the Tilly bus, and everything about it is in Dutch style, as might be expected. Parties going out from the city telephone for hitches and dinners if desired, and when they arrive they find the hitches awaiting their pleasure. There are hundreds of people who motor now who are not members of Country clubs and such outside formalities would, no doubt, attract many.

Why Journalism Is Popular.

Journalism is very popular with Smith college girls, as two years ago two graduates of the college applied for positions on a Boston newspaper and were immediately accepted. This year there are two vacancies, the young ladies having married members of the newspaper staff. The editor now has made application for two of this year's graduates and will have no trouble in getting them.

Some of Each.

"Somebody told him that he mustn't drink ice water during hot weather and somebody else told him he must let alcoholic beverages alone. You know how very obstinate he is."

"Yes."

"Well, he mixes the two."

Figures and Numbers.

"Figures don't lie," remarked the man who utters aphorisms.

"That's true so far as mathematics is concerned," answered the campaigner.

"But in politics a back number is liable to prevaricate some."

MEANS RECK- LESS BANKING.

Objection to Guaranty Deposits in National Banks.

TAFT EXPRESSES VIEWS.

Says Democratic Platform Favors
Compulsory Contributions From National Banks to Insurance Funds to Meet Defaults of Speculators-- Evil Result When Such a Law Was
In Force and Panic Ensued.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 27.—"It puts a premium on reckless banking and is an inducement to reckless banking." Thus did Mr. Taft, in response to a direct question, state what is, in his opinion, the vital objection to the proposed plan to guaranty deposits in national banks.

"That is the fundamental objection," he said. "Relieved of the responsibility to and the fear of his depositors, the tendency would be to induce exploitation, manipulation and the use of assets of banks to a speculative way. It would promote speculation at the expense of his fellow bankers and that, ultimately, means at the expense of the depositors. Any proposition as to the amount of the tax that should be assessed, as based on the present rate of loss, is on an erroneous basis, as the danger of loss of deposits is increased vastly by the proposed system, so that the percentage of the tax would have to be vastly increased."

"Mr. Bryan did favor a guaranty, the government to raise the funds by taxing the banks, but the Democratic platform provides for an enforced insurance, which compels all national banks to contribute to the insurance funds to meet the defaults of the speculators."

"I am told that such a law was in force in New York and the result was that when a panic ensued, the tax having been improperly calculated, there were not sufficient funds to pay the loss, but this I have only on the authority of a well known writer on the subject."

There was some discussion here of the position alleged to have been taken by Senator Hopkins of Illinois that the policy of a presidential candidate, so far as they are not contained in the party platform, are not binding on the party. Taft declined to make the matter a controversial one. It may be said, however, that attention was called to the fact that the rate bill that was recommended to congress by Mr. Roosevelt was not specifically approved by the Republican platform of 1901, but that it was adopted by a Republican congress on his recommendation.

BRYAN AT HIS OLD HOME.

He Makes a Bid For the Votes of the "Roosevelt Republicans."

Salem, Ill., Aug. 27.—No crowd of equal size or enthusiasm ever before turned out in this city, the birthplace of William J. Bryan, as that when the Democratic candidate stopped over to greet his old friends and neighbors. The whole population was on hand to extend a hearty welcome when Bryan reached here. They were augmented by thousands who came in on special trains.

The principal event of the day was a speech by Bryan from a platform in the courthouse grounds, in which he appealed to the "Roosevelt Republicans" to support the Democratic ticket, because, he said, they could not hope for a realization of promised reforms from their party. Taft, he said, was not the heir to Republican reforms.

Mr. Bryan also said that the present rules of the house of representatives destroy the opportunity of the people to control their own government, and said that popular branch of the government had been converted into a despotism. He also discussed the tariff and trust questions, outlining his remedies as set forth in the Des Moines and the Indianapolis speeches.

Several thousand citizens of Salem and visitors shook the candidate's hand. He held receptions at the courthouse, hotel and railroad station, where the people fought their way to get near him.

While Bryan was talking the crowd made up a purse of $300 and handed it to him as a campaign contribution. A check for $100 also was given by a man from Clinton county. Preceding Bryan's remarks, Theodore A. Bell of California, chairman of the Kern modification committee, who accompanied Bryan here, made a speech in which he compared the platforms of the two leading parties.

A MURDER COMPACT.

Valdez, Alaska, Aug. 27.—Marrion Kayerson, 19 years old, confessed that she induced George Pestelakoff, whom she loved, to kill her husband, Peter S. Kayerson, a woodman, at their home, Pestelakoff said he sought to deliver the woman from the terror in which she lived.

SIGNS OF DISCRIMINATION.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—Strike pay was handed out yesterday to the striking Canadian Pacific mechanics, but the cleaners were not included. A good deal of dissatisfaction has resulted and a number of them will apply for reinstatement.

FOUGHT HARD FOR LIFE.

Laborer Trapped in Flooded Sewer
Succumbs to the Rising Waters.

New York, Aug. 27.—Fighting desperately for life in a sewer in East Eighty-first street, in which pent-up waters from flooded cellars poured in a furious torrent, John Lynch, a sewer department employee, with one foot wedged beneath a cellar pipe, watched the swirling waters swiftly rise to his waist, to his throat, and then his life was blotted out.

Two companions who had come with Lynch into the narrow manhole from the street to the sewer to open choked pipes stood on the iron ladder leading into the pitchy darkness of the sewer, and with sorrow saw the man engulfed in the waters, despite their frantic efforts to drag him forth. They did not relinquish their hold on the man's hands, however, until he ceased to struggle.

STORM AND FLOOD BRING DISASTER.

A Portion of Augusta, Ga., Is Ten Feet Under Water.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 27.—Flood conditions unparalleled since August, 1810, have turned this city into a waste of waters. The entire city is submerged. So far three lives are known to have been sacrificed.

In the downtown portion business houses, telephone offices and newspaper offices are completely demolished. The damage to the city and immediate surroundings, it is estimated, will reach half a million dollars.

The Union depot is under ten feet of water and the residence district on Green street the water is six feet deep and slowly rising. The Sacred Heart church is in six feet of water.

The floods of the Carolinas and Georgia culminated in the breaking of the big dam six miles from Augusta, which diverts the water from the Savannah river into the canal at that point. The great flood of water, let loose, soon found its way into the city.

The big bridge across the Savannah river went down in the rush of waters and the dam at the lock, seven miles above the city, collapsed, adding to the flood.

The current through the city streets is swift, but not fast enough to more than carry away debris, box trees, store boxes and house signs.

Despite the fact that the water stands six feet in the residence district of the city and is deeper in other portions, there are no indications that the people are suffering beyond being marooned in the upper stories of their dwellings.

TONY PASTOR DEAD.

New York, Aug. 27.—Tony Pastor, the theatrical manager, died at his home at Enghurst, L. I., after an illness of several weeks, at the age of 73 years. Pastor was one of the best known theatrical managers in the country. He was born in New York and made his first appearance on the stage with a military troupe at the age of 9 years. A few years later he became a clown and for fifteen years he was a painted face, foxtrotter in the circus line. He graduated from the circus to the variety show, and after gaining a great reputation as a comic singer introduced many well known players to the public. He was known as the father of vaudeville.

OLD INVENTOR DEAD.

Boston, Aug. 27.—The death is announced at the home of his daughter in Brookline of John J. Greenough, inventor and former superintendent of the patent office at Washington. He was the first to take out a patent on a sewing machine, invented the first shoe regluing machine, and assisted in the construction of the first electric locomotive. He was born in Boston Jan. 19, 1812. He leaves several children.

SECOND BREAK IN ARM.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The state department received assurances from David E. Thompson, ambassador to Mexico, who was injured by being knocked down by a bicyclist in the City of Mexico Tuesday, that he was doing well and suffering only from a badly broken and dislocated arm, this being the second time in three months that he has met with an accident, resulting in a broken arm.

WADSWORTH PROMOTED.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Wade Ellis, now attorney general of Ohio, has been promoted by the president and has accepted the position of assistant to the attorney general, recently held by Milton D. Parry. Ellis will assume the duties of his new position as soon as the business of his present office, which will require his attention for some weeks, will permit.

A BAN ON CIGARETTES.

Little Rock, Aug. 27.—Superintendent Easley of the Arkansas division of the Rock Island railroad has issued a bulletin notifying all employees that cigarette smoking will not be permitted and that the violators will be discharged.

TALKED TO COUNTRY FOLKS.

President Roosevelt Engages the Farmer's Wife.

MUST HAVE SQUARE DEAL.

Mothers Often Unwisely Bring Up
Sons and Daughters Free From Hard
Knocks--Farmers Should Endeavor to Make Life in the Country More Interesting and More Attractive--
Rascality and the "Big Man."

Jordanville, N. Y., Aug. 27.—With a ceremony in which the President of the United States took a prominent part, the Jordanville public library was presented to the people of this community, the donors being Douglas Robinson, Mrs. Robinson and Harriet D. Whitmore, Mr. Robinson's sister, who had erected it in memory of Robinson's father and mother, Douglas and Fannie Robinson.

President Roosevelt, personally interested in the dedication, his sister, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, being one of the donors, honored the occasion with his presence, and although he had originally contemplated talking but briefly, pleased his audience by making an address of some length.

After going at some length into the history of the family that was making a gift of the library to the town, the president said in part:

"The value of a gift depends absolutely upon what use you make of it. You have got to use it rightly. That is all that any human being can do for anyone else to give them a chance and it rests with himself or herself to take advantage of it. We have a right to be proud of the great progress our country is making in the way of population, material development, etc., but it is not satisfactory to think that the great chills have gone along so much faster than the country districts. I am glad to see the chills grow, but not at the expense of the country. Their tendency to grow is not because of the opportunity they present, to make great fortunes, but because of their tendency to be more interesting and attractive to themselves."

"I hope in the course of a few decades to see the farmers bend their energies toward making life in the country more interesting and more attractive and inducing our people to understand how really attractive our country life is at present. I have done what I could to develop free rural mail delivery. I want to see it developed still further, the same as the telephone and the bicycle have been developed. I welcome the development of every agency that tends to increase the attractiveness of country life and develop the social side of it. I believe that more and more lifelike things like this could be used to advantage and only because of the looks, but because it can be used as a place for social meetings, and while boys and girls can meet there for social improvement it will be a place, I hope, where mothers will go also. If I have not to choose any word I would put ahead of the Grand Army men even, it would be the mothers."

"The hardest worked individual on the farm," said Mr. Roosevelt, "is apt to be the mother or wife of the farmer. If you don't applaud that you ought to. I believe in the farmer, economically, but on himself, not his wife. I am dead right on that. If you have got to drop some one deep into a lined man rather than the lined girl, I want to see lifelike things like this one used for mother's meetings. It gives the woman a chance to meet each other socially and it puts them in better trim for work."

"Now and then you will hear the wise father, or one who thinks he is, who dwell upon the fact that his boy is smart. If he means to be able, quick and to be trusted, then all right, but if by smartness is meant, as is too often the case, the kind of ability that is just off the line of honesty, then you should teach him that he is growing up to be an enemy of the republic."

"I'm with you to the limit in trying to put a stop to the rascality of the big man. Rascality in the great and the small is to be frowned upon in this republic. Distinctly equal the man who never goes dishonestly in the big man and the one who does it only in the big man."

"Fathers need the most preaching, yet frequently the mothers who have had hard lives take the narrow course in attempting to benefit their daughters and sons by bringing them up free from hard knocks. Next to the hardness of heart the next best desirable quality is goodness of heart, and the mother or father should not try to bring up their child in that way. You don't get the right stuff out of those children for the next war or you don't get decent citizens when there isn't any war. Bring them up to work, so that they shall recognize that an obstacle is not something to be shirked, but to be overcome."

"If there is one thing the farmer has the advantage of it is in the matter of fresh air. If you have your bedroom too stuffy then you get rid of that advantage. If your rooms are hot, immediately cooled and then if any air gets in and you catch cold you are better off than if you were a dweller in a tenement. Such honest problems as these I cannot discuss, but I can suggest them to you for your discussion."

The Life Saving Service.
The first stations of a life saving service in this country were established by the Massachusetts Humane society at Lovell Island and Cohasset. All efforts for saving life and property in cases of shipwreck were made by this society till 1837, when the president of the United States was authorized to employ ships to cruise along the shores and render assistance to distressed navigators. In 1818 congress passed a law creating a few life saving stations between Sandy Hook and Little Egg harbor, New Jersey. From this has grown the splendid system which now takes in all the coasts of the country. —New York American.

A Watch Tip.

"So you lost your watch in the crowd, eh?" Leaped the detective, sneered. "Well, I'm ashamed of you. You ought to know after your long friendship with me that there's only one safe way for a man to carry a costly watch—in the right hand vest pocket, with the chain running into the right and left pockets."

MORE THAN THIRTY MINERS PERISHED.

Suffocated After Fire Had Cut Off Escape From Shaft.

McAlester, Okla., Aug. 27.—More than thirty miners were suffocated in the Halley-Ola coal mine No. 1, near Halleyville, fourteen miles east of McAlester, when fire destroyed the hoisting shaft and airshaft and cut off air from the men below.

Twenty-five dead bodies were removed from the mine, following a successful three hours' battle with the flames. It is believed that six or eight more will be brought out. Twenty-five miners were suffocated and some of their bodies were burned.

Explorations in the channels revealed that none of the men met death by burning, but that all were suffocated. It is impossible for the rescuers to get far from the base of the main shaft and it probably will be twenty-four hours before a thorough search of the entire mine can be made. Some of the channels are three-quarters of a mile long.

The fire was occasioned by the ignition of a barrel of oil which a miner was trying to divide. The flames spread at once to the hoisting shaft and the air shaft, and all communication with the top was cut off. An effort was made to operate the cages running up and down the hoisting shaft, but it was found that the cages, the cables and the guides had been burned. There was absolutely no help for the imprisoned miners.

HEARTLESS KIDNAPERS.

Philadelphia, Aug. 27.—Abandoned by kidnappers supposed to be members of a "Black Hand" gang, Brooklyn, the 2-year-old daughter of Frank Mazzarella, who was stolen from her home on Tuesday, was found last evening in the woods near South Westville, N. J. The child was covered with mud and suffering from exposure in a severe storm that has been raging for forty-eight hours. Two boys came upon the little girl. It is supposed that knowledge of the girl had been informed caused the abduction of the child to abandon her.

BROOKLYN TAILORS STRIKE.

New York, Aug. 27.—The response which Brooklyn tailors, to the number of about 3000, made to the demonstration of the contractors that they would not yield to the demands of the new, far an increase in wages, was to go on a general strike. Sixty-five shops then were compelled either to accept or entirely suspend operations.

BASEBALL PLAYERS' MISHAP.

Piqua, O., Aug. 27. While playing in an exhibition game here, Michael Mitchell, right fielder of the Cincinnati National league club, sustained injuries which will keep him out of the game for the rest of the season. Mitchell turned his ankle by sliding to second base, tearing the ligaments loose from the bone.

PROMOTION FOR KOMURA.

Tokio, Aug. 27.—Count Jutaro Komura, formerly Japanese ambassador at London, was received in audience today by the emperor. Komura has been appointed minister of foreign affairs and he will at once assume the duties of that office.

A COLD AUGUST DAY.

Boston, Aug. 27.—The coldest August weather here in many years prevailed yesterday. The temperature dropped to 55. A cold northeast windstorm lasted from 2 a. m. until 9 p. m., 1.32 inches of water falling. No damage was reported.

PUT CRIMINALS UNDER KNIFE.

Should Be Subjects For Experimental Surgery.

SOUTHERNER'S ARGUMENT.

Men Who Owe Debt to the State
Could Contribute to Cause of Science by Revealing the Hitherto Unknown in Human Anatomy--Would Do Away With Barbarous Gallows and More Modern Electric Chair.

New York, Aug. 27.—By a speech advocating experimental surgery on criminals condemned to death, Dr. A. M. Brown, a prominent southern negro surgeon, raised a tempest of protest at a session of the tenth annual convention of the National Medical association, which is composed of negro physicians, dentists and pharmacists.

In effect Brown held that where it is necessary for a criminal to die anyway, why should not his death be made to contribute to the cause of science. The condemned criminal owes a debt to the state, and surgeons too long have had to depend upon the questionable ethics of experimental operations upon charity patients, he argued.

Dr. Brown is a Spanish war veteran, having been surgeon of the Tenth United States cavalry through the Cuban campaign. He is at present surgeon at the Home hospital at Birmingham, Ala., and visiting surgeon at the North Cross sanitarium at Montgomery, in the same state. He is an alumnus of the medical department of the University of Michigan.

"Each state in our Union in which capital punishment obtains could, by judicious legislation, install or institute, equip, perfect and maintain a state prison hospital for research, where surgery might seek and find the hitherto unknown in human anatomy," he said.

"Condemned those condemned to death to the prison hospital, to the operating table, by the side of the gallows—the gallows—and the more modern electric chair, each of which, without benefit to any community, simply works vengeance upon its victims; both of which have long since lost their terror in producing the desired effect for which they were originally intended."

Dr. Brown added that if his suggestion was adopted these purposes would be served: First, longevity would be advanced; second, crime would be destroyed; third, surgical science would progress.

Dr. Brown vigorously defended his position from attacks made upon it by a number of his auditors.

TONS OF ROTTEN EGGS SEIZED.

Detroit, Aug. 27.—Seven and one-half tons of eggs, every one of which is alleged by the United States government to be pure food inspectors to be absolutely bad, have been held at a bond storage warehouse since July 24, pending an investigation as to what use it was intended to make of them. It is claimed that two eggs were analyzed, in an already spotted condition, in the vicinity of Chinatown, and that they were shipped to Detroit to be used in the manufacture of candy, cookies and crackers. The seizure was made under the pure food and drug act.

NEW WAGE AGREEMENT.

Full Union, Mass., Aug. 27.—At a meeting of the Union Management association the new wage agreement with an amendment was approved and sent to a meeting of the Textile Council. There the agreement was adopted. Neither organization would tell what modifications had been made in the agreement, but it was said that they were slight. No change will be made in the present sliding scale now in effect until next November, when the agreement adopted yesterday will take effect and last until May of next year.

DEATH BEFORE ARREST.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 27.—Making good her threat that she would take her life if pushed too far, Mrs. Kate How, and alleged to have been the mother of the mob which held Springfield in its grasp on the nights of Aug. 11 and 12, swallowed poison while on route to the county jail last evening and died soon after. Her arrest followed the returning of an indictment against her for murder by the special grand jury which is probing the deaths of the legions lynched by the mob.

DISASTROUS FOREST FIRES.

Pasadena, Cal., Aug. 27.—Forest fires that have been raging for nearly forty-eight hours back of Mount Wilson on the government forest reserve continue and are devastating a fine forest region. A large force of rangers has been assembled to fight the flames.

HOSTILE TO FUGITIVES.

Baltimore, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Hostility to Governor Hughes because of his efforts to suppress gambling at the race tracks was expressed during the visit of the mayor to the Saratoga family fair, when owners of track refused to start them. In the races while the governor was on the program, the officials of the fair threatened and over the horse men in vain. Not until the governor had departed did the races proceed.

TURKISH OFFICERS.

Lyon, Mass., Aug. 27.—For the first time in the history of the state agents of the United States Customs and Excise department have been president by numerous state, that power falling to John J. Rogers of Worcester. Three years ago Rogers was elected governor of the state.

FLIGHT OFF FOR MELBOURNE.

Visit to Sydney Highly Appreciated by the People of That City.
Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 27.—The fleet of American battleships sailed from this port this morning, bound for Melbourne. The sky was cloudless, the sun was warm and only a moderate sea was running. At 8 o'clock the flagship Connecticut weighed anchor and led the warships in single line out past the shipping shores of the harbor, crowded with thousands who gathered to bid the fleet farewell.

The Connecticut cleared the Heads at 8.10 and the last battleship twenty minutes later. Then followed the Glacier, the Panther and the Albatross. A mile outside they turned to the south and, at a speed of ten knots, soon disappeared.

Sydney has given of her best to make the stay of the Americans in this port a memorable one. For six days the officers and men were fêted and entertained in every conceivable manner, and not one untoward incident occurred to mar this notable event in Sydney's history.

Sydney has given of her best to make the stay of the Americans in this port a memorable one. For six days the officers and men were fêted and entertained in every conceivable manner, and not one untoward incident occurred to mar this notable event in Sydney's history.

Speaking of the visit, the Sydney Herald says: "The American fleet's visit has enabled us to realize the meaning of a sea power. Now that the local has been formed and a wider outlook obtained with the same fleet in our veins, the result is bound to be helpful. It has been good to get closer to America and to know that Australia has been rediscovered."

"The Telegraph says: 'The visit is of historical significance and of great importance to the relations between the two countries, based upon common political aspirations and ties. The men's conduct has been admirable. Sydney never had such a week; the high note of enthusiasm was sustained. The high ebullient feels a fraternal pride in the progress of the great republic and a strong sympathy in every situation where American interests are seriously concerned.'

NAVAL APPRENTICE

MAY LOSE HIS SIGHT.

Said to Have Been Victim of Brutal Case of Mazing.

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—The Bulletin prints a story of the harrowing at the naval training station at Yerba Buena island of Earl Troy, a 21-year-old apprentice on the training ship Albatross, which will probably result in the loss of sight by Troy and the court martial of O. F. Gray and J. V. Johnson, two shipmates. The hazing occurred Aug. 10 and every effort has been made to keep the incident from becoming public.

According to the story, Troy was caught by Gray and Johnson as he was preparing to retire for the night, a noose was fastened tightly around his neck, the rope passed over a hook and he was swung clear of the deck, remaining suspended for five minutes. He was found in this position by the master-at-arms, his eyes bulging out and his tongue swollen and black.

For days he lingered between life and death and the doctors have said that he has lost the sight of one eye and probably both. He will be sent to his home in Oklahoma.

ANTS DEVoured SICK MAN.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 27.—(Ironically.) James, aged 23, a contracting contractor of Terre Haute, Ind., was suffering from tuberculosis and came to California two years ago. Last Monday he left his hotel to go to the ostrich farm near this city for a pleasant trip. On the way he became faint and lay down under a tree. Instead of recovering his strength he fainted and did not regain consciousness until long after dark that night. For two days and nights he lay helpless while red ants and other insects swarmed over his body and almost ate him alive. Doctors died last night.

Never Took the Hint.

Jackson, Miss., what did your wife say to you when you got home so late last night? You know you were afraid she'd scold. Faintly—My wife's a Jew. She didn't scold a bit. In fact, she didn't even ask me where I had been or what had delayed me, but late as it was, she sat down at the piano and began to play and sing. I tell you she's one in ten thousand. Jackson—What did she sing? Faintly—Well, Me the Old, Old Story."

THE REWARD OF WRONGDOING

At the time Artist Earle of New York left his wife and son and took up with an "affinity," many people remarked that his wife was probably the lucky party in the deal. His wife got a divorce and he married the "affinity." Now he is in jail for assault and battery on her, and she has fled with her infant of three weeks. The people who thought that his first wife was the lucky party are now sure of it.

Can any one tell of any good that ever came to either Stanford White or Harry Shaw, as a result of resorting with the woman who may properly be classed with the most remarkable mixtures of history? As for the woman herself, stricken with illness a few days ago, she is old and faded in the days when she ought to be at the height of her feminine attractiveness.

Instances of the same kind might be multiplied indefinitely.

Despite all talk about the pleasures of a lifeless time, doesn't it really pay to live a clean decent life?

BIRD'S-EYE VIEWS

Among the bills to be introduced in the next New Hampshire legislature will be one to change the name of Abbott road to Shadow lake. This is a very pretty body of water a mile long and half a mile wide, situated in Windham and the rest is in Grafton. It is surrounded by a young oak growth, which casts charming shadows at morning and evening, so that the new name is appropriate.

The Highland House at Contooscook, which has been under the management of George F. Gould for several months, was sold on Monday to R. E. Driscoll of Keene, a well known hotel man, who took possession the same day.

But the other day, Colonel Varney did something that was the marvel of all the island campers on the South of the Great Salt. While rowing across the Brim to the Boatswain's last Saturday, thinking over the Sunday school lesson for the morning, the blade of his left-hand oar slipped a pound perch out of the lake into his boat. The oarman stopped rowing just long enough to fasten a suspender button that had broken loose and to put the perch in a tin. He didn't proceed 200 feet further when the blade of his right-hand oar became entangled in a line that a fisherman had lost. In disentangling the line from the oar blade, the oarman felt a tug on the other end of the line. Pulling the "string" in, he landed a round-and-a-half bass. All this goes to show that certainly God feeds his sparrows. It is necessary to give proper credit for such a good story as this, and we will state that the Manchester Union is the source from which we obtained it.

OUR EXCHANGES

A Bryan Campaign Fund Suggestion
 Judge Parker and Delaney Nicoll, who have been visiting the Pacific coast and while there doing a little spellbinding for Mr. Bryan, have started for home. Will they resume their stumping on this side of the continent? In his addresses to western audiences Judge Parker was very severe on the trusts and Mr. Nicoll felt the applause. A meeting like that in New York would afford great entertainment. If advertised properly the two men with such a stunt would pack the biggest hall in the big town, and if Thomas F. Ryan could be induced to preside an admission fee might be charged without diminishing the attendance. In an age of vaudeville, humor goes.—Washington Star.

Accuses The Trial Court

The government's petition for a rehearing by the U. S. court of appeals of the case against the Standard oil company of Indiana is a remarkable arrangement of the court itself. The action of Judge Laddis throughout the trial, which ended with the imposition of the famous fine of $29,240.00, is vigorously defended in this petition, and the court is told that "the opinion as it stands erroneously states material portions of the record, does injustice to the trial judge," and "if permitted to remain unmodified, will tend to encourage disobedience to law, to impede the enforcement of salutary statutes and largely defeat their purpose."—Boston Globe

Terra Del Fuego

We have grown so accustomed to hearing this country spoken of as "the land of dollars," that to hear it called "the land of fires" to hear the land of destruction instead of dollars, strikes us unpleasantly. Yet in the past few days that name appears to be sweeping through the imagination of the American people, and stirring close to the fact, however little we may like it. The forest fire in Western Canada, evidently avoidable, since it had been smoldering for a month, has drawn Canada into the "land," and, remembering city fires in the Dominion, that territory really belongs in the "land of fires," where destruction destroys dollars with the reckless abandon of the reckless perhaps to the way in which dollars pile themselves up in this western land—but by no means approved because of this.

According to fire insurance statistics for the past five years, Americans in this case Americans of the United States—have lost on an average $251,000,000 a year. We burn up every five years more than enough to run the Government for a year. Even the American people cannot afford that.—St. Paul Dispatch

A Democratic paper, the Hartford Times, refers to the President's commendation of the work accomplished at Panama as "another campaign document." But what if it is? Is it not a good one?—Pittsburgh Journal.

In Memory of Farragut

The unveiling of a tablet in memory of Admiral David Glasgow Farragut, which will take place in the navy yard at Kittery this afternoon, serves to remind the fact that the American Nelson, as he was called by a British naval journal, died within the borders of the state of Maine. After the rebellion, in which he won enduring fame as one of the world's greatest sea captains, Farragut was created admiral and was sent on a cruise to European waters where he received many honors of the admiration which his deeds had won for him abroad as well as at home. Returning to this country, he became a paraplegic, invalid and while at the navy yard he passed away on the 14th of August, 1870. The memorial has been placed upon the house of the commandant in which Farragut died.

The veil will be lifted from the tablet by Admiral Dewey, the only man who has held in the American navy the same rank as Farragut. This tribute to the great admiral of the rebellion is a reminder of a man who gave sixty years of his life to the service of his country and of the sixty spent all but twelve at sea. Farragut was a link between the War of 1812 and the war of the states. He entered the navy at the age of ten, being appointed by Commodore Porter a midshipman. He was in that fierce battle when the American ship Essex was destroyed by a force of several British vessels. Farragut had been in the navy half a century when he commanded the fleet which destroyed the forts below New Orleans and captured that city. The story of his exploits in the rebellion is too well known to warrant repetition. He won enduring fame and lived long enough thereafter to enjoy the acclaim of his countrymen and of the world.

There are more ambitious memorials to him than the simple tablet in the navy yard at Kittery. St. Andrews did the striking statue in New York. Boston has a similar work in its marine park, and it is appropriate that the place where he died should be suitably designated and the fact that it is within the state of Maine gives the exercises of this afternoon a local significance.—Portland Evening Advertiser

PREFERS EARTHQUAKE LAND

Civil War Veteran Who is Visiting in Portsmouth and Vicinity

Mr. N. F. Berry of San Jose, Cal., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Millard Berry of No. 1 Highland street. He has recently visited his sister at North Berwick, not having seen her for twenty years. Mr. Berry is seventy-four, his sister eighty years old.

While there in company with his sister, Florence Chabourne, he spent a day in South Berwick hoping to find some familiar faces and places.

Fifty-one years ago, in 1857, Mr. Berry was a student at the famous old Herwick Academy for the winter term. It was hard to find one person in the village who was there then. The old building and the teachers and leaders have gone the way of all earthly things. Only a name here and there could be found. Mr. Hoyt of Portsmouth and Mr. Goodwin of Berwick have long since passed on to their reward.

Mr. Berry while at the academy boarded with the Thompson family. One member only remains there. Mr. Thompson keeps the periodical stores where his father kept the book store. The father, mother and two sisters are dead and two brothers are absent in Boston.

Mr. Berry will always cherish the kindness he received from the entire family as a fragrant memory of loving words and deeds. The whole family were fine musicians and were active in good work for the community. They all helped to make his home pleasant. As with this home and family so most of these then active in village life have gone and others are in their places. Faithful teachers, steadfast leaders, loving mothers, great all taken their places in the "Silent halls of Death" but their good deeds live and many can now after all these years rise up and call them blessed.

Mr. Berry has always been sorry he did not heed the wise counsel of his teachers and continue to study and finish his education but, feeling the impulses of the outside life, left school and learned a trade in Boston.

Soon after the Civil War came upon us and Mr. Berry, like thousands of others, felt the old "anxiety of the heart" and enlisted in the Thirtieth Massachusetts regiment. He was engaged in some of the severest battles of the war, was twice wounded, the last time at Gettysburg, July 1, 1863, and though not very seriously injured he carries the scars today. More and better than this, he is doubly glad that he helped a little in the great struggle and that our beloved land is united with "one flag, one country only," and also he is glad to have lived to see the results made possible by our wise leaders and the strong arms of the common soldiers.

Mr. Berry has spent the last two and a half years in California and, after a short visit in Portsmouth, he intends to return to the land of sunshine and flowers and earthquakes. He was there during the great shock and after that experience he prefers earthquakes to perils by automobiles. Under storms, snow storms, cold winter and severe sudden changes of weather.

News From County Seat

All the Happenings at the Academy Town

Local, Business and Personal Gossip

Gathered by Special Correspondent on the Scene

Miss Maud McIntosh has returned from a vacation in South Roydston, VI.

Miss Mary Sullivan of Salem, Mass., formerly of this town, is visiting old friends.

The quarterly meeting of the Rockingham County Republican Club is set for Sept. 3 at two o'clock at the probate court room.

Business transacted in police court Wednesday was the sentencing of Michael Norton of Portsmouth, who arrived in town on the eight o'clock train from Boston in a hilarious condition. He was given thirty days at the county farm by Justice of the Peace Arthur O. Fuller, who served in the absence of Judge Shute.

Dr. A. H. Varney is critically ill at his home in Newfields with an attack of rheumatism. He is attended by his daughter, Dr. Edith C. Varney of Lynn, Mass.

Since the vacation season of the Phillips Academy has been in progress, the authorities have had many repairs effected about the buildings. Soon after the school closed the recitation rooms were thoroughly cleaned and later the dormitories were painted inside. Recently the gymnasium is being improved.

The funeral services of Mrs. Katherine Hughes were held on Wednesday at St. Michael's church. Mass was conducted by Fr. Finen and interment was in Haverhill, Mass. The bearers were five of her nephews, James, William J. and Samuel Bruce, John Barry and Peter Rooney of Exeter, and Edward Rooney of Haverhill.

The first rally of the campaign was held at the town hall Wednesday night with Colonel Winston Churchill of Cornish and Daniel C. Reulich of Littleton as speakers. The rally was in the interest of the gubernatorial candidacy of Roscoe W. Pillsbury of Londonderry. The announcing posters and flyers, as received here, stated that Hon. John Scammon would preside, but he had not been consulted in the matter and could not accept.

Prof. James A. Tutts, chairman of the committee of platform Republicans, consented to preside out of courtesy to Colonel Churchill, his warm friend. In his brief opening remarks he said that his presence did not mean endorsement of all statements which would be expressed by the speakers. "We all stand on the Republican platform," he said, "and should work together for the best interests of the party." He then introduced Col. Churchill with a few complimentary words.

The principal addresses were in the main an emphatic negation of the question, "Shall the Boston and Maine railroad and its efforts be longer allowed to control New Hampshire politics and dictate legislation in their interests?"

A SONG BY LOCAL MUSICIANS

Work of Fred E. Hasty and Ralph S. Parker Soon to be Published

Messrs. Fred E. Hasty and Ralph S. Parker, of this city are about to have one of their songs published. They have a contract with Shapiro, the great publishing house of New York, and have received the last proofs, and the song will shortly be on the market.

It is something of an honor to have a song accepted by such a concern as Shapiro, who are the best known publishers of popular music in the country.

The music of the song is by Mr. Parker and the words by Mr. Hasty. Messrs. Hasty and Parker have written several clever songs and they are bound to be heard from in the future. Their friends are anxiously awaiting the publication of their new song.

STATE RIFLE SHOOT

Orders issued for it to be held on Sept. 15, 16 and 17 at Manchester

General orders, No. 17, just issued from the adjutant general's office, fix Sept. 15, 16 and 17 for the regimental company, state company, regimental rifle and battery and cavalry revolver competitions, on the range of the Manchester battalion at Manchester.

In addition to these competitions the National Rifle Association match, an individual contest open to any officer or enlisted man in the New Hampshire National Guard, will be held.

The battery-cavalry revolver match will be held on the morning of the 17th.

In the regimental company team competition each team will consist of seven men, of whom no more than two may be officers. The shooting will be at 200 and 500 yards, and contestants will be allowed two shots per sighting, and ten counting at each range, in a time limit of eighty-four minutes at each range. There will be prizes for the first and second teams, and the first and second individuals. The 200-yard stage will be shot at eight o'clock morning, Sept. 15, and the 500-yard stage will follow immediately.

The cavalry rifle team will enter this competition to qualify for the state team company competition.

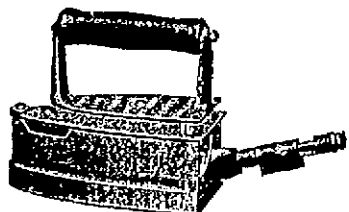

Any team failing to make 224 points at the 200-yard range will be excused from further duty.

Teams making 224 points at each of the distances in the regimental company team match may enter the state company team competition. In this match the distances will be 200 and 600 yards, and the regulations as to number of shots allowed and time limit are the same as for the preceding contest, and the prize will be awarded on the same plan.

Mrs. John H. Storer of 286 Beacon street, Boston, who was injured when her automobile was partially demolished by a collision Wednesday with the Atlantic Shore Line mail car, left in the afternoon for Halden, N. H., to join her husband. Her son Robert and the chauffeur, George Patterson, remain to attend to repairs on the machine, which is a Pope-Hartford thirty-horse power touring car. It was towed to Portsmouth on Wednesday afternoon by horses.

Mrs. Storer's daughter, Miss Edith, is the guest of Prof. Roland Thaxter and family at their cottage on Curtis Island.

Twenty-four hours of fresh north-easter off shore had by this morning agitated a heavier sea on the coast than has been seen this summer and the yachts Levander, Osprey and Vanessa were glad to return to smooth water after making an attempt to sail. The Dover three-master, John J. Hanson, bound to Newport News to load coal for Hager, kept on across the bay. Wednesday afternoon the schooners David Faust, Frankfort for New York, and George R. Bradford, Stonington for Boston with granite, and Harold L. Berry, Boston for Bath, made port, and the five-master, M. D. Cressy from Norfolk with 3500 tons of coal arrived. Several small craft which were anchored at the Isles of Friends and the schooner Mary E. Smith, used in the party business at York Beach, also sought a more secure haven in Pepperell's Cove in view of the threatening weather.

The dance at the Kittery Yacht Club Wednesday evening was well attended, notwithstanding the inclement weather.

Schooner Pendleton Brothers has been chartered to load coal at Philadelphica for here at fifty-five cents.

The steam yacht Levander, owned by Alfred Marshall of New York, and the auxiliary schooner yacht Vanessa, Morton R. Peck of New York, arrived Wednesday.

Some time ago attention was called to the fact that several hydrants of the Kittery Water District were placed practically in the middle of the sidewalk and the prediction was made that damage suits would inevitably result if their position was not changed. Since then a considerable number of persons have been hurt by violent contact with the hydrants and the prediction is very likely to be verified if the assertions of more than one of the aggrieved parties are carried out. Considering that Kittery Point streets, poor enough at best, are totally unlighted by the town, it would seem that the deliberate placing of these hydrants in the most dangerous position possible was a piece of utterly folly the penalty of which should be insisted on by the townspeople whose safety is thus endangered.

Pleasant Reading For The Fat

What a simple and inexpensive (least expensive solution your druggist has) solving of the fat woman's problem the Marmola Prescription Tablets provide. She takes one of these harmless, pleasant little tablets after each meal and at bedtime and loses from 12 to 15 ounces of fat each day and yet suffers no harm, cramps, no disturbances inwardly, produces no wrinkles and is put in practically no expense, for an effective quantity can be obtained for only 75 cents.

This harmlessness combined with the extreme effectiveness which distinguishes these tablets is due, on the authority of the Marmola Co., Detroit, Mich., to the fact that they are made in strict accordance with the famous prescription: 4 ounces Marmola, 1 oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 4 ounces Syrup Simplex, which, as everybody knows, has long been put up and recommended by our best druggists.

A WAY OPEN

Many a Portsmouth Reader Knows It Well

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Portsmouth people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof of the like which has never been produced before in Portsmouth. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. C. W. Ham, of 139 State St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "My back became so sore and lame that I could hardly get around and at times I was bedridden quite a little. The dull aching became so severe at times that I knew it was serious. Then I went to Philbrick's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and before I had used the contents of one box the backache disappeared as did the other symptoms of kidney disease. If anyone has reason to believe they have kidney trouble, Doan's Kidney Pills will surely bring relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FLEET SAILED FROM SYDNEY TODAY

Officers And Crew Have Been Well Entertained By Australians

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 27.—The American battleship fleet left yesterday for Melbourne and yesterday saw the last of the entertainments that have kept the people of Sydney busy and happy for the past week.

The public schools demonstration took up a part of the morning and afternoon, and Wednesday afternoon Admiral Sir Harry Rawson, the commander of New South Wales, gave a brilliant and popular party to a large number of guests, including Rear Admiral Sperry and the senior officers of the fleet.

At noon the government gave a luncheon to the visiting and local journalists, at which Admiral Sperry also was a guest. The Admiral made a brief address and received an ovation. Nothing could have been more gracious or acceptable than the welcome given him by the people of Sydney, he said, and nothing could be more significant of the continued good relations based on common political aspirations, of the American people and the people of Australia. The Admiral prophesied many generations of concord. The published reports of the welcome to the fleet and everything done to entertain visitors were lavished praise, he said, and he was personally indebted for the abundant reproduction of the sentiments expressed by himself. The health of the American journalists were drunk with enthusiasm.

The public schools demonstration was a great success. The weather was bright and warm. Forty thousand people, including Lord Northcote, governor-general of Australia and Lady Northcote, Sir Harry Rawson and his wife, many officers and men from the fleet and a large portion of the people of Sydney gathered at the cricket ground and witnessed the evolutions of the school children. Eight thousand children in various colored dresses participated in living tableaux, which represented, among other things, the words "Hall Columbia" in living columns. The children, in dresses giving the proper colors, formed a huge shield of the flags of the United States and Australia intertwined, and this evolution evoked storms of applause. The American anthem was sung by a large chorus and there was also Maypole dancing, flag and club drills and marches.

Admiral Sperry last evening gave a dinner on board the battleship in honor of Lord Northcote, Sir Harry Rawson, the local mayor of Sydney, and the commonwealth and state ministers. The fleet and the city were illuminated as usual and on shore there were musical entertainments and fireworks.

In two baseball matches this afternoon the Australian nine were victorious. A home team defeated the team made up from the fleet 8 to 7, and the University of Sydney defeated a nine from the battleship 10 to 2.

A rifle match resulted in a victory for the American team. There were 20 men on a side, seven shots at each range. The scores made by the American team were: At the 200-yard range 627; at the 300, 614; and at the 400, 617, a total of 1858. The New South Wales team at the 200 yards made 419; at the 300, 471; and at the 400, 471, a total of 1361.

In an archery match a team of the fleet defeated an Australian team 5 to 1.

Admiral Sperry, having farewell to the city of Sydney, expressed himself as follows: "I want to voice my sincere appreciation of the magnificent hospitality that has been extended to us in Sydney. Apart from the production of more intimate relations between the two great bodies of English-speaking people, the educational and recreational of the visit cannot be overlooked. We have seen greatly enhanced the wonderful progress and development being made by the island continent and we have realized that former ideas of this great young country, which is destined to play a great role in the commercial and industrial development of the Pacific. The knowledge gained by the men of the fleet will be disseminated throughout Australia and lead to results beneficial to both the commonwealth and the United States."

"Americans hope that the time is not distant when the United States and Australia will be brought into closer contact through the development of their commerce, and I trust that the completion of the Panama canal will open a new field of advantageous relations."

ESTIMATES LOOT AT $250,000

Hill "Squeals" on Curtis Woman and Rest of Gang of Burglars

New York, Aug. 27.—The New York detective bureau believes that in the arrest of Harry Hill in Paterson, N. J., and Mrs. Minnie Curtis of 136 West 37th street, his friend, they have persons to whom can be traced a number of robberies. The arrest of Hill, who is a brother of ex-Congressman George J. Hill and grandson of Henry Klug, a wealthy silk manufacturer of Paterson, was brought about, it is said, through information furnished by the woman, with whom he had quarrelled.

Evidently Hill believes that Mrs. Curtis has betrayed him, for he has confessed his part in a number of burglaries, the loot from which he estimated at about $250,000. At the same time he implicated Mrs. Curtis and several other confederates.

The gang, according to Hill's story, operated in several cities, using an automobile and a steam launch in their operations. He said that Mrs. Curtis sold recently these modern accessories to the carnival of burglary.

Mrs. Curtis was arraigned in the Jefferson Market court on the specific charge of receiving stolen goods. Magistrate Barlow held her in $1000 bail for a hearing.

Hill called little until the police told him that Mrs. Curtis had accused him of stealing $5000 worth of jewelry. On hearing this he said, according to the police, that if the woman was speaking he would do some talking, too. He said according to the police, that Mrs. Curtis and others who were associated with her were members of a clever gang of burglars. He alleged that he met the woman in an opium joint in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE REGIMENT

Makes Fair Showing in National Rifle Tournament at Camp Perry

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 27.—The Massachusetts rifle team at the end of the second day's firing in the national tournament, with only the twenty-fourth place, is defeated not by any of the National Guard teams except the District of Columbia, but by the United States service teams, which have been practicing for this match since frost left and which on Tuesday shot up the field.

The regulars that night held the first four places, the infantry ranking first, the navy second, the cavalry third and the marine corps fourth, while the District of Columbia, by fine shooting, takes fifth rank, followed by the Annapolis cadets. Massachusetts is in seventh place, where she went from second on the skirmish run, under miserable conditions, the wind going at nearly a gale.

Undoubtedly the Bay state marksmen held their ground all during the second day's firing, in which the teams started in a rising wind. Second at the end of Monday's race, Massachusetts remained second until the skirmish firing yesterday afternoon, when they slipped. At 800 yards it so happened that the navy and Massachusetts drew adjacent targets, and back at their firing points gathered a large crowd to see the winners of first and second prizes last year's race home.

The navy, which led by six points, have increased it to 24, scoring 544 to Massachusetts' 533. High board on the range, however, was Wisconsin, the westerners banged out no less than 674.

The teams went to a quick lunch with the navy at 1292, Massachusetts 1272, the cavalry 1268, the infantry 1267, Wisconsin 1267, Pennsylvania 1268, District of Columbia 1243 and the marine corps and Annapolis eighth and ninth respectively with 1207 and 1205. Maine had slipped from 19th to 12th, while New Hampshire was 16th at 1205. Rhode Island 24th with 1218, Connecticut 31st with 1179 and Vermont 41st with 1160. The Massachusetts 8 yard score follows: Wis. 16, Parker 431, W. H. Sweeney 16, Upton 47, Davis 45, Har-

Are You on Good Terms With Your Stomach?

Treat it right—its your best friend. Abuse it—and you'll find there's a limit. When the limit is reached, the stomach must rest. Kodol rests it.

That is what Kodol is for. The stomach cannot stop work; if it did you would stop existing. It cannot even take a vacation and "rest up"—except when it has Kodol to assist it.

Very likely you never gave a thought to how hard your stomach works. Most people don't until they have to. Sometimes, though, it costs less to do a little thinking before one has to.

Even the galley-slave of the ancients rested—at intervals. But the stomach of modern man works harder than the galley-slave, and it never rests—of itself.

Kodol, of course, will rest the stomach, but that is something nature didn't provide for. If people now-a-days lived the way nature intended, it wouldn't have been necessary to provide for it. But they don't—that's the trouble.

Better keep on good terms with your stomach, if you can. Your health depends absolutely upon the perfect performance of the stomach's functions. Ever think of that—or why it is true?

The human body is composed of certain chemical elements. These are combined to form substances such as fat, protein, carbohydrates, mineral matter and water.

The food we eat is composed of exactly these elements. The stomach must disintegrate this food and correctly apportion it to the needs of the system. Looks like a lot of work for the stomach, doesn't it? No wonder it occasionally needs Kodol to help it do this.

The person who has the kind of a stomach that can do its own work continuously, without assistance has a great deal to be thankful for. Most people haven't that kind. That is why they require Kodol.

Kodol will do all the stomach's work for it, when necessary—giving it a period of complete rest. The rest that restores health. That's how Kodol cures indigestion—which is merely a good digestion "gone wrong."

People used to think that when they had indigestion they should stop eating or limit themselves to a prescribed diet. Others commenced purging with cathartics. All that is very disagreeable and unpleasant. Also, it isn't necessary.

Starvation or purging doesn't cure anything. Kodol doesn't cure anything either—but shows nature the right road, in short order. Kodol merely establishes complete and perfect digestion. It does this by digesting every particle of the food. The stomach then rests and cures itself. That is what was intended when Kodol was made. It couldn't be any other way.

Kodol is quite indispensable to a good many persons. To all, in fact, who haven't time in their daily lives for a careful selection of foods and diet. It very quickly enables nature to rectify any disagreeable effects of wrong eating.

AMERICAN AMBASSADOR INJURED IN MEXICO

President Diaz Much Interested and Expresses Sympathy

Mexico City, Aug. 27.—President Diaz has taken unusual interest in keeping advised of the condition of David E. Thompson, the ambassador of the United States to his country, who was knocked down by a bicyclist while crossing a street in the capital. He sent messengers to the hospital several times to inquire as to the ambassador's injuries.

The bicyclist, a Mexican youth named Alvarado, who fell in a heap upon the ambassador, was promptly arrested. Ambassador Thompson interceded in the youth's behalf, and it is reported that he will be freed.

The Mexican authorities showed the greatest concern over the accident.

The ambassador was hurried to the Diaz Hospital, where an examination disclosed a fracture of the left arm and severe bruises about the head and body. The X-ray showed that he had sustained no internal injuries.

MISS PETTICOATS

Said the St. John, N. B., Telegraph:

It was announced some time ago that a treat was in store for St. John theatregoers and the large audience that attended the presentation of the drama "Miss Petticoats" in the Opera House last night were able to appreciate the truth of that announcement. It is a taking play, filled with dramatic situations and there is no serious contention of comedy being lost as to make it thoroughly enjoyable.

Frank Allen as Capt. Jack Stow and Miss Petticoats' grandchild, portrayed the character of a retired old sea captain to perfection. Ned Thompson as the Rev. Frank Harding and the leading male character and Emily the part well. He was in good form and acted consistently throughout.

John Campbell as Mrs. Copeland, acted as the good fairy to Miss Petticoats and did it well. Miss Florence Fair as Agatha Reuter, had the same part, Miss Petticoats, and made a good impression. Though suffering from a cold, she recited her lines well and was particularly fine in the third act, where she denounced the villains and wreaked vengeance on them for their past treatment of her. She was good throughout the play, but this was her especial act, and she was greeted with applause.

The piece went smoothly all were well in their parts and there were certain calls after Acts II. and III.

Burns, the fall breaker, is not a great man. He has apparently left no footprints on the sands of time or on any other soil.

The heavy rain of Wednesday was welcomed by the farmers, who claim that the ground was getting very dry and the rain was badly needed. With some warm weather it will bring about the late crops in good shape.

The largest marine guard over at the pier yard is stationed there at present.

A FAMILY DISCUSSION

"Frank," said his wife at the summer resort, "when I married you I swore to love, honor and obey, didn't I?"

"Indeed you did," said Frank, "with the accent on the obey."

"Yes, that's right," she replied. "I remember that very well. Do you remember the words of that ceremony now?"

"Distinctly, my dear."

"All of it?"

"Yes, all of it."

"Then perhaps you'll enlighten me. There wasn't anything in it that said I should clean fish during July and August, was there?"

"That—uh—'obey' covers that."

"You'll have to guess again," said the wise little woman. "It wasn't in the ceremony and if you want those fish cleaned you'll have to clean them yourself."

Realizing that he had been trapped he hurried out to the woodshed and began scraping the porch with a curry-comb.—Detroit Free Press.

MORTIFICATION SET IN.

Empire—It's no fun to have the fans call you rotten!

Booster—No, I should think it would make you feel mortified!

Locating the Trouble. Though it flows a howling gale, Nor the rays it plays with garments, Nor the week of hot and wet, Yet the end upon the corner, With its delights to stand again, Grimacing, as at Eve's confusion, Doubtless behind his parent ape.—Jerrett L. Silver, in Life.

Just the Thing.

Mr. Goodheart—Regarding those kittens, my dear, the president of our society says the most humane way to destroy kittens is to put them in an ordinary earthen flower-pot and then suddenly turn the flower-pot upside down in a pail of lukewarm water.

Mrs. Goodheart—Why, yes, that is a good idea, isn't it, because you know there is a hole in the bottom of the flower pot for the poor little things to breathe through.—New York Weekly.

Consolation.

Miss De Fine—I hope the report that your daughter and her husband do not get along well together is untrue.

Mrs. De Shire—It is too true. The trouble is that he is jealous of her. The fool! He might know there is no cause for jealousy.

Miss De Fine (thinking of the girl's plumpness)—Indeed, he might; but love is blind, you know.—New York Weekly.

Some Mistake.

Returned Tourist—Mr. Hayseed, I met your runaway son in the west. He has become a very successful Chicago drummer.

Barner Hayseed—Must 'a' been some other fellow, mister. My son had no ear for music, and couldn't keep time to a tune for save his neck. He hadn't neither 'kept check an' impudence.—New York Weekly.

Not Qualified.

"Do you want a boy?" asked the small lad in the doorway of the big office.

"Yes," replied the broker, sternly. "I want a boy who is honest to the core."

"To do coral, Gee, boss, you don't want a boy, you want an apple!"—Chicago Daily News.

The Law Speaks.

DAILY FASHION TALKS

BY MAY MANTON

IN THE FAVORITE PRINCESSE STYLE.

ALL the variations of the princesse gown are in vogue just now and the modified ones that are known as semi-princesse are exceedingly attractive and graceful while they suit a great number of figures better, than do the more severe sort. Here is one that is made with a long, unbroken panel at the front and one at back yet which consists of separate blouse and skirt joined by a belt at the sides. The sleeves also are cut in one with the blouse portions and all the pretty materials of the season are appropriate. In the illustration the foulard is trimmed with velvet ribbon, but pongee is in every way to be desired, soft, light weight tulle is greatly in vogue, thin chiffon voiles are admirable for wear during the warm weather and there are also a great many cotton and linen fabrics which are quite appropriate. The little chemise can be of lace or embroidery and the trimming band about the neck of anything in contrast, or of the material embroidered. Again, it may be well to add that the model is one that can be relied upon to be correct for the coming as well as the present season and were the panels at front and back unbroken it would become exceedingly handsome while the work makes pleasant occupation for verandah hours.

size the gown will require 10 1/2 yards of material 21 or 32, 7 yards 44, 3 1/2 yards 15 inches wide for the chemise, 1 1/2 yard 27 inches wide for the yoke, 27 yards of banding. A May Manton pattern, No. 6057, sizes 34 to 42 inches bust, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents for each. (It is sent an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

THIS FOR YOU

There is only one way to obtain a clear transparent and flawless complexion; massage treatment makes the flesh flabby, the so-called beauty creams containing oily or other greasy substances, fill up the pores of the skin, preventing them from doing their work properly, and also induce the growth of a fine, fuzzy hair on the face. If you would have a face entirely free from Pimples, Blotches, Eczema, Blackheads and kindred diseases of the skin, get the following prescription put up at any reliable Drug Store and your troubles will soon be over.

Clears one-half ounce. Ether one ounce. Alcohol seven ounces. Mix. Shake well and apply to the face night and morning allowing it to remain at least ten minutes, the longer, the quicker results you will have. In extreme cases apply four or five times daily.

The flint powder deposits on the face may be wiped off after a reasonable time. Do not use any soap. Instead wash the face with oatmeal and a little powdered orris root tied up in a cheese cloth bag, and no matter how bad your face is, or what the cause may have been, this will surely cure it. This prescription is perfectly harmless and can be used on the most delicate skin.

Harbor Association to Present Petition to Congress

At a recent conference held at the Anchorage on Tavistock Island between the members of the Harbor Association and Capt. John H. Pruett, national president of the National Harbor American Association of Masters, Mates and Pilots, the work of this association was reviewed and plans made for the future of the Harbor Association.

Among the work planned out is the following:

The following petition, which has been signed only by masters and pilots of vessels entering this port and local masters and pilots, will be sent to the chief engineer of rivers and harbors at Washington and a copy sent to the New Hampshire delegation and to Captain Pruett. The petition asks for a lighthouse on Buck Island, Isles of Shoals, a break-water from Wood Island to Gerrish Island and slack water navigation for the port and harbor of Portsmouth.

Capt. Pruett, Harbor, Atlantic Harbor, No. 79, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will endorse this petition and send it to the grand harbor which will meet at Washington when Congress is in session next winter and present it to the river and harbor committee. Capt. Pruett will be one of the delegates from the Harbor Association to the Deeper Waterways Conference of the United States which meets at Baltimore, on Nov. 18 and 19, and the River and the Harbor Congress which meets at Washington on Dec. 1 and 5.

The assistant secretary of the navy is a member of the Association of Masters, Mates and Pilots. He holds a license as master on the lakes and belongs to Lake Harbor.

THE PAPER MILL
MAY START UP

The Owners Have Given an Option to a Manufacturing Firm

The Herald is in possession of reliable information that a deal is in progress which if consummated means the starting up of the paper plant in this city within the next sixty days.

The Publishers' Paper Company, which owns the mills has given another corporation an option on the big pulp mill with a sufficient supply of pulp wood for ten years. It is expected that the pulp mill will be started under such an arrangement.

If a sufficient water supply can be obtained, the pulp mill product will probably be made into paper at the Portsmouth mills.

POLICE COURT

Joseph Spinnery was before Judge Simes today charged with beating a horse. He pleaded guilty and the court ordered him to pay a fine of $10.00 and costs of $5.44. He produced the $18.44 and was released. Patrick Sullivan and Michael Wright were both charged with drunkenness and pleaded guilty. Sullivan was released on a suspended sentence of six months at the county farm and the case of Wright was placed on file, he agreeing to leave town and keep away.

AT ST. ANDREW'S-BY-THE-SEA

The last meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's-by-the-Sea Episcopal chapel at Rye Beach will be held on Friday afternoon at four o'clock in the chapel. Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Tompkins will preside. An address will be made by Rev. Mr. Ginery of Tilton, N. H., on missions in the state and winter work among the lumber camps.

Three local musicians who started for York in an automobile last evening had a break down on Portsmouth bridge and had to make good time to the electric car to be in time to all their engagement.

DOVER CITY GOVERNMENT

Members Have the Postponed Annual Outing Today at Dover Point

Half a hundred people of Dover are having an outing today at Dover Point, postponed from yesterday on account of the rain. The ground is wet in places but the outing is a success.

Mayor and Mrs. White, members of the board of aldermen and councilmen, city officials, and their families comprise the party.

A genuine Loughlin clambake was served at noon.

The afternoon plans include sports and a baseball game.

THEY ARE GETTING STRONG AGAIN

Riverside Brewery Men Want to Keep Up the Sport and Defend Their Honor

The strong men are again on the rope and looking for a pull in a tug-of-war contest. This time it is the Portsmouth Brewing Company outfit who have got together once more for the season and claim they are in better trim than ever.

They feel so strong that they are ready for all comers who want a drag on the cloats.
